Answering your telegram for new copy, would say we will not have any further advertising until after the first of the year, when we will again be very glad to send you our plates and our advertisements, as we are very well satisfied with the results through your paper. It will afford us much pleasure to give you an additional contract for the coming year.

As stated above, we will let you hear from us after the first of January; and with best wishes, we are, Yours very truly, Results—results are what advertisers want—and get in The Times-Dispatch. For the first thirteen days of November The Times-Dispatch has printed 3,258 inches more advertising than the corresponding days in 1905. Why? Because it produces results. It has printed for ten months this year many thousand more inches than any other paper in Richmond.

Ilt is supreme in this field.

brother. William A. Jones, wars situated, my thanks for your kindness to him while there. His death was a great shock to me. Dr. Southall had written me he considered him very much better, and I had hed several messages from himself (my brother) and others who had been there, saying he was so much improved, until I had begun to hope there might be a hope of his recovery, though all the doctors who had ever seen him said not—that it was a hopeless case softening of the brain from typhoid fover. I know he is far better off out of his sufferings but it is very distressing that he should have died as he did; but I realize the fact that it could not be helped; that it is impossible for the attendants to keep a close watch on each one all the time. I attach no blame to any one on the contrary, I thank each and all of you for your kindness to him white with you.

Very truly your friend.
